Curriculum and Instruction 975: Discipline-Based Education Research
Fall 2014, Thursdays 9:00am-12:00pm

This course will introduce you to:

– The relationship between teaching, outreach, evaluation, and education research,
– The current state of the field in Discipline-Based Education Research (DBER),
– Theories of teaching and learning relevant to undergraduate education,
– The methodological toolbox of education researchers.

Are you a graduate student in STEM interested in exploring questions related to the teaching and learning of STEM?

Questions? Contact Rosemary Russ (rruss@wisc.edu)